

Parents Of High School Students Often Complain:

“My kids are doing well in school work and maintaining a good GPA, however, they are not doing well in taking the SAT. What could be the reason?”

This problem is caused by 3 main reasons:

- 1. Students are not taking this test seriously*
- 2. Lack of previewing and reviewing daily lessons*
- 3. Lack of self-motivation to challenge themselves in gaining extra knowledge*

JC Education
1813B Ygnacio Valley Rd
Walnut Creek, CA 94598

SAT PREP

**@

JC

Learning Center

We help your children excel in school by fostering a love of learning that will not only bring them success in the classroom, but also success in life!

Tel.(925)939-3700
1813 B Ygnacio Valley Rd., Walnut Creek, CA 94598

Ygnacio Plaza Mall, Behind Dephne's / Near Heather Farm Park
Web site: www.jceducation.net / E-Mail: jceducation@gmail.com

THE SIMPLE SOLUTION TO IMPROVE TEST SCORES:

SPEND ONLY THE LEAST NECESSARY AMOUNT OF PREPARATION TIME AND TAKE PRACTICE TESTS CONSISTENTLY. JC EDUCATION CAN HELP YOUR STUDENT MEET THIS SOLUTION. AT JC EDUCATION, WE:

- ◆ Test each student's level and analyze their strengths and weaknesses in order to prepare and train with level-appropriate problems.
- ◆ Value time-management. Classes are held on Saturdays for 3 hours, which effectively allows students to focus on schoolwork during the school week and concentrate on SAT during the weekend.
- ◆ Provide SAT practice books from over ten different publishers—this offers a wide variety of questions for students when they take practice tests so they will be fully prepared on the actual test day.
- ◆ Teach how to master concepts and principals instead of simply having students memorize them.
- ◆ Emphasize in studying math sections. The goal for everyone is to score 100% in math.
- ◆ Keep class sizes small. There is a student-teacher ratio of 8:1, which provides strong group support and motivation, as well as greater teacher involvement. Also, because of a smaller class, kids hesitate to throw many questions on the practice tests.

Students who have attended JC education have successfully gone on to attend distinguished universities and colleges throughout the last 10 years. We encourage you to sign your child up to our SAT course and give them the opportunity to gain the necessary skills needed in order to become a better test-taker and conquer the SAT!

JC Education also provides counseling on other related issues such as choosing a university and course of study, and can assist with college applications and personal statements. Instructors can also provide consulting on International student needs including the I-20 and Visas.